GIVES DARING GIRL MEDAL.

President Honors Woman for Heroic Deed.

Saved Aged Man from Death Under the Wheels.

Bravely Held Him While Cars Whizzed Past.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A medal of honor for extreme daring in risking her life to save the life of John C. Runyon was today awarded to Miss Mary Guinan of Middletown, N. Y., by the President. Runyon, who is 74 years of age and feeble, was in danger of being run down and killed by an Erie Railroad train at Montgomery street crossing in Middletown December 19. Miss Guinan noticed his perilous predicament, but she did not have time to pull him off the tracks. She seized him and held him firmly between two tracks until the train passed. There was but thirty-six inches of space between the swaying cars. In transmitting the medal the President wrote to the young woman: "I am pleased to convey to you herewith this medal or testimonial of the nation's appreciation of your courageous and praiseworthy act."

ZION CITY TO BE AUCTIONED.

JUDGE LANDIS ORDERS SALE DESPITE PROTESTS.

No Personal Property Rights to Suffer by Forced Disposal of Claims. Voliva Appears in Court, but is Subdued in Demeanor—Deacon Lewis Hiss Hopes.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, May 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Zion City, and all the interests of the Christian Catholic church in Zion, are to be sold under the hammer to satisfy the demands of creditors. Judge Kenesaw M. Landis ordered the sale, in spite of the objections of Mrs. Jane Dowie and her son, A. J. Gladstone. Dowie, the order was granted on a petition of Receiver John C. Hatley, and the sale will be made as soon as the contents of the Dowies over personal property are settled. Deacon John A. Lewis, named as the successor in Dowie's will, expects the order to restore peace to Zion, and while Wilbur Glenn Voliva, the temporary ruler of Zion, was in court he kept a back seat and said nothing. Several members of Voliva's disrupted cabinet were also present. The receiver's attorneys urged that the property be sold at once, fearing that it would deteriorate in value. Nearly all the creditors of the estate are members of the church and interested in the welfare.

Mrs. Dowie and Gladstone have a petition pending before Judge Landis for an order, granting them certain personal property, and the court ruled that the order for sale should not infringe their rights. One difficulty to be adjusted before the sale is the claim of the undertaker for $500 due as funeral expenses for the late John Alexander Dowie. It is said that the Dowies believe the church should pay this debt, because of an understanding that the church council had to have entered into at the time of his death.

OFFICIALS INDICTED.

Justices of the Peace and Town Constables Charged With Grafting by Grand Jury.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.), May 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fifteen indictments against constables and justices of the peace were returned by the grand jury today, the indictments charging six constables and two justices with grafting by means of exorbitant fines, collecting illegal fees and accepting money from offenders to keep their names off the court records. The evidence showed that a regular system of hold-ups was in vogue in the courts of the two justices, men being arrested and fined for petty offenses, the costs collected and the parties released without paying the fines. A prominent pork packer who was arrested while talking to a woman on the street, paid $45 to keep his name off the court docket.

FOUR WOMEN ARE BURNED.

In attempting to rescue her children, Mrs. Schiffer was also so severely burned as to be in critical condition today, and Mr. Schiffer suffered severe burns in fighting the fire. Two guests of Mr. and Mrs. Schiffer, R. Citroen and M. Breier, were also severely burned. TEXAS TOWN IS FLOODED.

HOUSTON BUSINESS FIRMS ARE OUT OF BUSINESS.

Terrific Rains Cause Buffalo Bayou to Overflow—Gauge Marks Seventeen Feet Above Ordinary Tide Mark—Corn, Cotton and Oats Seriously Damaged by Water.

MRS. GOULD IS CRITICISED.

EX-SECRETARY SAYS THAT SHE DRANK TOO MUCH.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
FALESTINE (Tex.), May 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Early this morning a terrific electrical and thunderstorm, accompanied by a cloudburst, prevailed here for two hours and great damage was done to the growing crops, residences were flooded, and reports from many places show heavy rain to have been general over East Texas and as far south as Houston.

According to a gauge of the Buffalo Bayou at Houston, the water in the ship channel opposite the wharves of the Direct Navigation Company, rose between 6:30 this morning, and 6:00 o'clock tonight, four and a half feet, which made the depth of water at the navigation company's wharves, twenty-two feet, or seventeen feet above the ordinary tide.

In and around Houston, terrific rains have caused Buffalo Bayou to overflow, and many manufacturing plants are shut down. Every stream is out of banks, and in hundreds of instances the water has flooded property upon which the business houses are located, causing damage that cannot now be estimated.

The Colorado River at Eagle Lake has risen and completely swamped thousands of acres of cotton and corn. The whole section is suffering an enormous loss caused by the rains, and high winds which have not ceased for four days. Business, the last week, has been practically at a standstill. At Troy, in Bell county, most of the oats have been cut green and the straw is rotting under the birds and it is feared now that the grain will sprout. Wheat is too green to cut, and the wet weather and high winds will cause great damage.

WEATHER RECORD BROKEN.

REMARKABLY COOL WEATHER.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, May 31.—The Weather Bureau tonight announced that all records were broken by the low mean temperature throughout the country during the last two months, and made this forecast: Temperatures will continue comparatively low Saturday and Sunday over the eastern part of the country, and will change only a little in the extreme West. Over the central portions it will be warmer by Sunday.

The entire section east of the Mississippi, says Weather Forecaster Frankfield, "may expect cool weather and rain tomorrow and Sunday. From present indications the weather will turn warmer by Monday, and after that we will have real summer temperatures."

same two months of any previous year of which there is record. In the vicinity of Washington, D. C., the combined mean for April and May was 53.5 degrees, five degrees below normal temperature, while that of May alone was 58 degrees, also five degrees below normal temperature, and equal to the previous low record of May, 1882.

Harry Veatch Has Been Subpoenaed as Witness for Howard Gould and Promises to Give Damaging Testimony—Declares That No Mail Was Improperly Handled.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DES MOINES, May 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Veatch, until last October private secretary of Mr. Howard Gould, New York, has been served with a subpoena to appear in court as witness for Gould.

Veatch, who is now assistant manager of a hotel here, says that what he will testify to will be damaging to Mrs. Gould.

He traveled with her as a private secretary on European trips, and passed considerable time as one of her party in Caribbea.

"My sympathies are largely with Mr. Gould," said Mr. Veatch, "but the Mrs. Gould was nice in a great many ways. She was addicted to the excessive use of liquor. Many of the eccentric stories that have been printed about her, undoubtedly concern acts committed when she was not herself."

"One of the most notable of these was that told by the architect who alleged she cursed him, because he alleged she told her what she alleges, but I doubt the truth of stories that connect her name with other men. I think that her only bad fault lies in her weakness for liquor. When she takes it she is fierce."

MERGER IS FRAUDULENT.

KANSAS CITY, May 31.—Judge Walter Littlefield, special master in chancery, appointed to take evidence, announced today that he is ready to make a report of his finding in the investigation into the merger of the American Bond Reserve Company. "I find that the merger of the several companies was a fraudulent transaction," Judge Littlefield said, "and that the proceeds of the fund deposited with the State Treasurer of Missouri should be distributed pro-rata among the creditors of the several companies, no preference being given to creditors in this State."

NO PAY FOR SICK CATTLE.

CHICAGO, May 31.—The Executive Committee of the American Meat Packers' Association, whose membership embraces 25 large and small slaughter-houses in twenty-seven States, met here this morning and adopted resolutions asking all inspectors of slaughter-houses to buy cows and other cattle subject to post-mortem inspection by the United States government. The request was made that immediate effect be given the resolution.

Indisputable Evidence.

You have read our oft-repeated statement, "In use for over 30 years." It was in the early sixties that the prescription now universally known as Castoria was first made use of. With a record of over fifty, under five years of age, out of every hundred deaths, it was the AMBITION OF EVERY PHYSICIAN to discover a remedy suitable for the ailments of infants and children that would decrease this distressing mortality. In Castoria that relief has been found.

Let us take the statistics covering the deaths in the City of New York for the past 30 years, and here we find the beneficent effect of a combination of drugs excluding opiates and narcotics so long sought for, namely: CASTORIA.

Of the total number of deaths in New York City in 1870, 50 per cent. were under five years of age; in 1880, 45 per cent.; in 1890, 40 per cent.; in 1900, 35 per cent. only. Just stop to think of it.

Until 1897 no counterfeits or imitations of Castoria appeared on drug store shelves, but since that date Mr. Fletcher has been called upon to suppress a number of these frauds. While the record for 1900 does not come down to our expectation it is owing to the carelessness of mothers when buying Castoria. The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is the only safeguard.

Losers' Costly Errors Add to the Agony.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Ashley and the balance of the Seals played a thinking part at Recreation Park this afternoon, while the Los Angeles contingent was running rings around them. With a two-bagger, a dropped fly by Shaughnessy and a home run by Dillon, the Angels took such a commanding lead in the opening frame with three tallies that the contest was practically no contest for the balance of the distance. For no particular reason, the southerners scored three more runs and Walter Nagle had the pleasure of shutting out Long's men, whose best efforts resulted in three scattered singles.

Take away the first inning and there was a game that was fairly respectable from the standpoint of closeness. But that's something you can't do. In each of the three innings in which the visitors scored, two hits were made off Ashley's delivery and the youngster with the "Down South" accent had anything but an agreeable day of it. Right off the reel Carlisle opened with a two-base hit to center, Ellis struck out and Brashers went out to the infield. With good chances for retiring the side, Shaughnessy dropped a fly that Smith sent his way and that was what caused the trouble. Dillon followed it up with a home run over the fence and the three runners paid their way around the course.

In the fifth there was a flash of class when Nagle hit his way out of a tight hole into which he had fallen by filling the bases with no one out. Ellis hit to Ashley and Eager was forced at the plate. Brashers hit the ball the same way and Easola as the pivot man of a double play retired the side.

Delmas and Nagle furnished the scores in the seventh. Delmas walked, was sacrificed along by Eager and scored when Nagle poked the ball over third. With Carlisle out, Ellis's two-base hit scored Eager. The sixth and concluding run was a disgraceful affair. Delmas singled and struck out for second. Easola made a bad peg, which gave Delmas a life at third and Spencer nosed up the ball until the Los Angeles shortstop was safe and sound. The score:

Chance for Fake Is Small, as Men Will Battle on Winner-Take-All Basis—McCarey May Sign Schreck and Jim Flynn—Jim Jeffries Would Fight Bill Squires.

Montana and Burns Train.

LOCAL PUNCHER WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY OF HIS LIFE.

Montana Kid and Jimmy Burns got down to real hard work yesterday, their fight here Friday night, June 1, before the Pacific Club, and as Kid Solomon had himself tried out by a real hard Montana man, he will get a good opportunity for Jimmy Burns. Burns is probably one of the best in the business at his weight.

Burns has gone to the East Side club, near Eastlake Park, where Mally McDonald will look after him, while Montana went out yesterday to the Heidelberg in Calhouna Pass, where Solomon trained for the Alti fight. Calhouna is an ideal place, for it has mountain air and water, and is far enough from Spring street and a car line to make one forget electric lights.

Montana will have Kid Dalton, and Leonard Lauder to watch him, and these two should give him about as many hard knocks as he will get in a real fight. He can take a morning run to Calhouna if he wants to, over a good road, and with Van Court to watch him, he should be able to get into first-class shape.

There is a possibility of no fight about this fight, for the sports, as a matter of fact, have not yet been settled. The fight for several months. The first round, which was called, was a draw by Jeffries, after Burns had all the best of it, scored the sporting element on taking chances on bad decisions and little has been doing since. As the boys are to fight on a proposition of the winner taking all but $50, which will go to the loser for training expenses, each one will probably make a hurry-up fight of it.

There will be two preliminaries. Earl Sain and Leonard Lauder will go for ten rounds, and the latter will be the victor for six. This latter pair will make their first appearance as scrapers.

It is hinted that Manager McGee may put on Flynn and Mike Schreck this month, but after the Menic-Monahan scrap, the next card will probably be a tryout for the ambitious pug.

There is little new in the fight situation with reference to any other fight, except that the McCarey "opportunity" still has hopes of breaking into the game, and using the Panoramia Ring on South Main street as a fight house.

Jim Jeffries is taking life easy these days, and calmly waiting the result of the Squires-Burns fight. He says he will fight Squires, if he beats Burns, providing there is a decent money offered. However, if Squires beats Burns, and then Jack Johnson fights Squires and wins, Jeffries will not fight Johnson, on account of the dark-brown taste.

Continuous Pool.
New game was played yesterday in the pool tables now on at the Los Angeles Athletic Club and in this afternoon (29) beat W. J. O'Bannon (45) by a score of 25 to 26. Masteyar, Gordon and Marsh want to play one game each and they must do that today, as the time limit expires tonight.

FAIR MAIDS IN BRAIN-STORMS.

Wild Havoc Created in Last
Basketball Game.

Sweet Exhibition of Temper and Dirty Playing.

Los Angeles Girls Defeat
Polytechnic Five.

L. A. girls beat "Poly" in basketball yesterday afternoon, 12 to 4, on the U. S. C. courts. As an exhibition of sweet (?) dispositions and a general display of brain-storms, the game was a howling success. Viewed from the standpoint of a mere outsider, the fair maidens seemed to be engaging in a free-for-all hair-pulling contest, and as far as could be seen from out the cloud of dust and indignation, Poly seemed to outclass her opponents by a mile when it came to spirit and temperament, even if they lost the game through some oversight of the referee.

The bleachers, strong in Poly sympathizers and possessed of incredible powers of lung and vacuolary, added greatly to the picturesqueness of the scene although the only real rooting was done by a delegation of small boys perched in a pepper tree.

The game was called at 3:30 o'clock. It was something like 4:30 when the opposing factions finally stood ready, with dangerous gleams in their eyes, and the ball went up from center.

At first everything ran along comparatively smoothly. L. A. put in some good team work and Miss Blissett of Poly did some fine guarding at the line. Then Poly fouled, strange to say, and Wally Kendrick very inconsiderately threw a basket on it.

The Poly team looked troubled but decided to play on. L. A. not being after a field basket. Even that was allowed to pass, but when L. A. shot the ball in for another field goal, Poly was ready for trouble. Tumbling and sliding over the court the various players, worried along somewhat in a football. Poly forwards dislodge being guarded. It prevented them from making baskets.

"You quit your holding, do you hear?"—from an irate dangle.
"Get! What dirty playing. Miss it! Good!"—these sportsmanlike remarks from the Poly bleachers.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.
A lull in the game; referee the center of a warring group, all waving their hands and talking fast; Poly coach trips anxiously towards the middle of the court; L. A. coach trips after him and hustles him out the field.

Some time after, game again in progress. Hurrah, Poly has a point. Their ruffed spirits are somewhat pacified. But before the half-fidelity interpolated with little pleasantries handed out gratis—was over, the score stood 9 to 1 in favor of L. A. and Poly retired with dark threats of vengeance.

The second round, or half as it is sometimes called, started with the same good-will with which the other had ended. There was something disquieting in the grin and murderous determination with which the young ladies chased each other over the court. And the frequent and frequent interruptions during the game were a new feature of basketball that hardly tends to elevate the sport.

In the fourth, Sahara closed fast and got up in time to win from Hippocrates and Little Joker. The fifth went to Kermit, a well-played good thing. Results:

Futurity course: Andrew B. Cook, 130 (Kirschbaum), 9 to 10; won; Carrillo, 127 (Goodchild), 12 to 1; second; Sharp Boy, 127 (L. Wilson), 30 to 1; third; time 1:19.4-5. El Chihuahuas, Nettie Hicks, Enchanter, Adirondack, El Bernardo, Search Me, Bellair and Desmages also ran.

Visitors Rush to Jail.
Visitors were a surprise to the officials at the County Jail yesterday. Sheriff Hammel and his assistants were not prepared for the rush. "I've seen busy days at the County Jail, but this is one of the busiest we've had yet. It is customary for the friends and relatives of prisoners to come on visiting days, but they have had an unusual number today. There are not so many prisoners confined within the walls, either, and the authorities allow visitors inside, although it is rather hard work for my assistants. I am of the firm belief that this is the nearest jail in the United States and as clean as it is possible for a institution of this character to be."

TENDERLY LAID TO REST.
Loving Friends Pay Last Tribute to "Grandma" Lucas, Who Had Lived for Others.

On Wednesday, the 25th inst., all that was mortal of Mrs. M. Lucas was laid to rest at Evergreen Cemetery. "Grandma" Lucas, as she was generally known among her friends and acquaintances, had led an eventful life of almost 88 years, and though bent with age and suffering, maintained to the end a cheerful and contented disposition that marked her life. Married at the early age of fifteen years to a local Methodist preacher, she struggled patiently by his side and assisted in his work, and when he died she called her husband, she struggled with resolute courage to successfully rear her little family. In 1886 she removed from Indianapolis, Ind., to this city, where she has since resided with her daughter, Mrs. S. N. Manninger, on Angelino Heights. During her entire life she was actively engaged in church and W.C.T.U. work, and many homes are brighter and happier because of her interest in them. Besides her daughter, Mrs. S. N. Manninger, she is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Ruth, of Richmond, Ind., who was visiting in Los Angeles when the mother passed away.

RATE WAR UNLIKELY.
BREMEN, May 31.—Dr. Wiegand, director of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, when questioned regarding rumors of a rate war arising from recent developments in the Trans-Atlantic trade, said that his company had not the slightest occasion for inclination to enter into such a contest with the Cunard or any other company, either on the Atlantic or other routes.

At the above reported consideration the price paid for the property was at the rate of $812 a front foot.

The Cornell Company reports the sale of the property at No. 1866 East Forty-fifth street, consisting of a lot 40x124 feet, improved with a small cottage. It was sold for Charles C. Smith to Mrs. J. Nelson, for the reported consideration of $1200.

LIQUID AIR FASCINATES.
Experiments at Gamut Club in Aid of Hospital for Contagious Diseases.

The wonderful possibilities of liquid air were demonstrated to a large number of fascinated spectators last night, by Prof. C. Alexander Bobnik, in the Gamut Club auditorium. He was assisted by his son, Arthur Bobnik. The experiments included freezing fruits and vegetables, freezing and crumbling and breaking pieces of tinware which had been immersed in the liquid. Also alcohol, whiskey and mercury were frozen and nails were driven with a piece of metal frozen into the shape of a hammer. Rubber and various flexible metals broke like glass when treated with liquid air.

Its commercial importance for refrigeration was shown and by the use of a complex apparatus, its value for motive power was also demonstrated. Prof. Bobnik lectured under the auspices of the lecture auxiliary of the McKinley Memorial Hospital for Contagious Diseases. The proceeds will be added to the fund for the erection of a hospital for the treatment of contagious diseases.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor returned from San Francisco and says he feels certain the Southern Pacific will build a railway along the route of the Owens River aqueduct from Mojave to Keeler.

The Fire Commission yesterday granted eight permits for motive power to industrial concerns, and made various appointments of city employees.

The Board of Public Works abandoned all proceedings for the improvement of Hill street from Fort Moore Place to Sunset boulevard because of the stand taken by some property owners, who would not waive damages.

The question of licensing social clubs is to come before the City Council again Monday. It would increase the city's revenues $25,000 a year, the Mayor says, but there is opposition.

Mrs. Flora Hilbrish, who is suing the janitor of the Braly building for divorce in the Superior Court, yesterday told how her husband used shocking language while beating her. She said she would not live near a death-house nor have her baby getting into poison.

Mrs. Mary R. Crandall, locally well known through her peculiar actions, was committed to Patton yesterday.

It is stated that by the arrest of and filing of complaints against J. H. Smith in the Police Court yesterday, the power of the "divorce ring" is gone forever. The lawyers who tried Smith's cases will have an opportunity of explaining their connection with him.

Benjamin Scorer was fined in the Police Court yesterday for beating his sister-in-law, threatening his wife and setting his house on fire. These incidents were the result of intoxication.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MAYOR THINKS S.P. WILL BUILD.

RETURNS FROM A CONFERENCE WELL PLEASED.

Definite Answer Within Sixty Days and Railway Along Aqueduct Route Could Be Used Within Year—Hill Street Improvements Abandoned by Board of Works.

The Mayor returned yesterday morning from San Francisco, and at the City Hall yesterday expressed himself as confident that the Southern Pacific will build a railroad up the route of the Owens River aqueduct.

"I am as reasonably certain as any man can be within a definite promise that this road will be built," said Mayor Harper. "I believe that it will be put through in ample time to accommodate the building of the aqueduct. It could be completed within a year."

In company with Messrs. Matthews, Lippincott and President Anderson of the Board of Public Works, I had a conference with Chief Engineer Henry General Freight Agent Jones, George W. Luck and Mr. Calvin, really the heads of the Southern Pacific on the Coast, and while they did not give us the definite assurance that the road would be built, they agreed to submit it to the board of directors, and I feel confident the outcome will be the building of the road.

"The Southern Pacific" would desire certain concessions from the city, in the way of definite contracts for carrying of freight for the aqueduct construction, and I do not think there would be any difficulty in getting this phase of the proposition down to a satisfactory basis on both sides.

"The Southern Pacific has a survey already made through this country, but this might be somewhat changed, its general route from Mojave to Keeler, however, would be satisfactory to the city, as it would place our materials within easy hauling distance of the proposed line. It is possible we could induce the company to construct out of its own pockets to make this even more advantageous.

"I asked the railroad officials how soon we could expect definite information, and stated that we desired it within sixty days. They informed us that we could have their definite reply to less time than that.

"By the building of this line the Southern Pacific could make a 240-mile cut-off on its direct line east and there is no doubt the project appeals to the men we approached on the subject.

"We also discussed with certain San Francisco men interested in the matter a project to get a road built west from Mojave and it is possible the Stahler Chemical Company, which has immense borax beds up there, will take this up. I am highly pleased with the prospective outcome of this northern trip."

COMMISSIONER'S GRIST.

Permission was granted by the Board of Fire Commissioners yesterday to the People's Gas and Coke Company to install a 10,000-gallon steel storage tank for crude oil under the sidewalk at No. 444 St. John street.

J. A. Oles was given a permit for an electric motor and a gasoline storage tank at his cleaning works, No. 122 Figueroa street.

L. A. Campbell & Co. were allowed to install and operate a 20-horsepower boiler and drilling apparatus upon property of the Santa Fe, near Butler street, at Remond Junction, for the purpose of drilling a water well.

A permit for two steam boilers at the tailor refining works of Clarence E. Hanson, No. 264 East Edgewood street, was granted.

Livingson & Lee secured permission to install a distillate engine at their machine shop, No. 1319 San Fernando street.

Rudenko was granted a permit for a brass foundry at No. 159 North Clarence street.

An electric motor can now be installed by the Metropolitan Ice Cream company at its factory, No. 1602 South Main street, as permission was granted yesterday.

The board also granted a permit for an electric motor for the machine shop of the Remond-Williams Motor Car Company, No. 1150 South Main street.

Social Club Licenses.

It is understood that the question of licensing social clubs which are operating under State charters and which dispense intoxicating liquors will come up in the City Council on Monday, and that the measure proposing to tax such places $5 per month may be adopted.

Mayor Harper estimates that this would bring to the city a revenue of $25,000 a year. Opposition was developed in some quarters on the grounds that this might be the means of causing to spring into existence a number of cheap clubs which practically would be saloons operating under cheap licenses.

Moore Licensed No More.

Mayor Harper has asked City Tax Collector Johnson to withhold any further license as a minstrel.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

TELLS OF PIETY AND BEATINGS.

WIFE DESCRIBES HER HUSBAND PICTURESQUELY.

Can't Remember Whether Her Whippings Came Before His Profession of Religion—"What in Hell Do I Care," He Is Quoted as Saying Upon Seeing Her Ragged Underclothes.

Mrs. Flora H. Hilbrish, testifying in a contested divorce case yesterday in the Superior Court, could not remember whether her husband gave her certain complained-of beatings before or after he professed religion, and when intent on becoming a preacher.

Mrs. Hilbrish spoke with horror of the dreadful things her pious husband had said while he was beating her the first time.

"I never heard him say such things before," she said in a shocked tone. "I never dreamed he would say such things."

"What did he say?" asked her attorney, preparing his mind for expected horrors.

"He said: 'Damn ye, I'll knock your head off,' " faltered the witness.

"Yes," said the attorney encouragingly. "Go on, Mrs. Hilbrish. He said, 'What?'"

"That was all," explained the plaintiff, "but he said it again next time he beat me."

"Didn't he, or swear at you any other time?"

"Yes, once. He hadn't given me any clothes for a long time, and I had waited till I just had to have some. I was undressing one night, and when I came to my ragged underclothes, I said I would have to have some new ones pretty soon. That was just my pleasant way of asking for them. He said: 'What in hell do I care whether you have any clothes or not?'"

Tom H. Hilbrish had been janitor of the Braly building, and one day, Mrs. Hilbrish said, he announced his intention of leaving the city, and that he had a better job in sight as janitor of a medical college.

"He said there was a cottage down there where we would live," continued the witness, "and I told him I didn't want to live there, among those Italians and Mexicans. I would not go down to the place, and I couldn't see any cottage I thought could be the new home. When I asked Tom about it, he asked me if I saw a big building back of the college, and I told him yes. 'Well,' he said, 'the cottage is just back of that.' I asked him where the big building was used for, and he told me it was where they kept the bodies before they were buried. He said: 'I told him never in the world would I live by a death-house. I told him I'd be dreaming of things coming after me all the time.'

"He said I'd have to help him in the college, too, and I asked where we'd leave the baby. He said we'd take it with us, and I told him that wouldn't do at all, that I wouldn't have my baby going round in that place, and getting into poison, maybe."

Mrs. Hilbrish's testimony took up most of the afternoon, and the case was continued.

IRISH HEIR'S FLIGHT.

John William George, who was working as a pressman in this city when he fell heir to a large Irish estate, and the will of his grandfather, conditionally upon his taking the name, John William Baxter, has found some difficulty in fulfilling the condition. Though the change was effected in Great Britain at a cost of $1000, George has found it necessary to file a petition in the Superior Court of this county exactly as if he did not have the royal authority of Great Britain to use the name.

On learning of the legacy from his grandfather, George went to Ireland to claim the estate, with the intention of returning to California as soon as he could dispose of the property. He found a purchaser in the British gov-

Street Proceedings Abandoned.

The Board of Public Works yesterday abandoned all proceedings for the improvement of Hill street from Fort Moore Place to Sunset boulevard to Fort Moore Place, as the property owners there refused to sign waivers of damages. The cut would have been from six to ten feet in depth.

City Is a Landlord.

Some time ago the city purchased as a site for an engine-house a piece of property in the 900 block on Figueroa street, extending through to Lebonan street. On this property are two houses, and now the city is experiencing the woes of the landlord.

The house at No. 940 South Figueroa street is vacant, and City Tax Collector Johnson finds it in such a state that numerous repairs will be necessary before it can be rented. As the engine-house will not be erected for some time yet, Johnson asks permission from the City Council to make the necessary repairs, so that the city can again rent the property, which brings an income of $10 a month.

Few Extensions Asked.

The Board of Public Works yesterday granted sixty-day extensions to Contractor George Rheinhardt for the improvement of Normandie street between Thirty-sixth street and Santa Monica avenue, and to Tryon & Brain for the improvement of Normandie street between Normandie street and Normandie street.

Commissioner Hubbard stated yesterday that there are not one-half the extensions of time asked for by contractors there were six months ago, and it is the policy of the board to hold them down to the lowest possible limit.

Petition Denied.

San Marino street will not be opened through from Hoover street to Ninth street, yesterday the Board of Public Works denied a petition for this opening, as it deems the widening of Hoover street sufficient for the accommodation of the territory affected.

Church Trustees Petition.

The trustees of the First Methodist Church, a number of other property owners in the block bounded by Fifth and Sixth, Broadway and Hill, have filed a petition asking the City Council to proceed with the paving of the alley running through the block.

Would Extend Court Street.

Petitioners claiming to represent more than a majority of the frontage affected yesterday filed their petition asking for the opening of Court street through to Rosemont avenue, at a width of fifty feet.

Wants His Bonds Raised.

Here's a city employee who wants to be put under heavier bonds. W. M. Nelson, auditor for the outfall sewer, has asked the Board of Public Works to recommend that his bond be raised from $25,000 to $50,000, and the board took this action yesterday. Nelson is allowed to have in his possession, city money to the extent of 50 per cent. of the amount of his bond, and he finds that under the present bond, as this would give him but $12,500, he does not have enough funds on hand to carry on the necessary transactions.

Milk Inspectors Appointed.

The Board of Health yesterday appointed as milk inspectors, John McLean, William W. Curt, Edwin A. Oberacher, Sydney H. Bruce, John Crowley and Guy E. Cherry.

Sending Sample Ballots.

City Clerk Leland has a force of clerks sending out to every registered voter of the city sample ballots for the forthcoming Owens River bond election. Sixty thousand ballots will be sent out.

System Didn't Work Well.

The Board of Public Works yesterday adopted the recommendation of City Engineer Hamilton that the system of placing house laterals to street line, at the time of constructing main sewers, be discontinued. Hamilton states that the plan has not worked satisfactorily, as there have arisen difficulties about the proper placing of the laterals, and the board decided that this would not be demanded except in cases where the street is soon to be paved.

Sunday Times Pictures.

Owing to a regrettable delay in a freight shipment of the mounting board used in the making of the Sunday Times pictures, it is possible to get a story out with last Sunday's Times, not yet in the hands of the time to get one out with next Sunday's issue. The series will be resumed on Sunday, June 3, with even prettier and more picturesque news than those already distributed.

ement, which is putting into effect its purpose of dividing the Irish estates and selling parcels of land on term payments to the peasantry.

Yet a little longer the young Irish squires remained in the land of their ancestors, for his imagination had been fired by a maid of the Emerald Isle. One matrimonial venture he had made already, and his former wife now lives in Long Beach.

The past was forgotten, however, and the future was rosy and bright. Fortune he had, and it needed but his chosen bride to fill his cup of happiness. But, alas, the pair were of different religions, a grievous circumstance in the land of the shamrock, and the match was broken off.

George returned, alone, to Los Angeles, where he decided to go into business, merely for an occupation, and then found that he must legalize his change of name in the courts of this country.

"DUCHESS" COMMITTED.

MRS. CRANDALL'S SAD FATE.

Mrs. Mary Russell Crandall, who has kept herself more or less in the public eye by her strange conduct for several years, yesterday was committed to Patton.

Mrs. Crandall was formerly the wife of E. E. Crandall, the one time head of the dry goods firm of Crandall & Allen and for many years has been balanced with the passing of each year, though the character of her hallucinations has not changed. She has deemed herself the daughter of Collis P. Huntington, the wife of Henry E. Huntington, the Duke of Tours.

When told yesterday in Judge Rives's court that she was to be sent to an insane asylum, Crandall smiled sorrowfully and said: "I'm willing to be guided by your judgment. If you think it will be best for me to go there, I am willing to go."

Asked where she was born, she answered: "I have thought, formerly, that I was born in Kentucky, but I have since been informed I was born in France."

Mrs. Crandall's only relative, so far as is known, is a brother in Cincinnati. She has property at Long Beach. On a previous occasion, when her insanity made her a nuisance to officials from the City Council, she was sent to a sanatorium. A guardian, W. P. Trumbower, was appointed to care for her.

COURTHOUSE MISCELLANEOUS.

RAILWAY SUITS. Joseph B. Knicker yesterday filed a suit in the Superior Court asking $10,500 as damages from the Los Angeles Railway Company for injuries alleged to have been received in a collision between a car he was a passenger in and a truck.

The defendant is said to have taken place at Maple avenue and East Twelfth street, July 16, 1906. A suit was also filed by J. B. McCalland, for $25,300 from the Pacific Electric Railway Company, for alleged injuries received in the wreck of a Brooklyn avenue car at Bridge street and Pleasant avenue, October 15, 1906.

UPP DIVORCE. Rosa D. Upp, whose suit for divorce against Calvin S. Upp came to trial yesterday in the Superior Court, was granted an interlocutory decree on grounds of cruelty of a peculiarly revolting character. Among the minor charges of cruelty was one that he lashed the children with a

Jury Candidates Fiddle "Red Light" Cases

Confess Some Knowledge of Questionable House

Savage Reforms and "de Eight" Ward

Called for jury duty before Chambers to try Tom Savage, the Eighth ward man charged with conducting a disorderly house, more business men of the city plan and direct testimony of the light district.

In order to insure an impartial jury, the jury had been from men of some standing, whom were 50 years of age or over. When the attorneys for the defense began to question the jury regarding their qualifications as judges in such a case of their remarks were interesting.

One elderly man tucked his white beard into the waistband of his trousers as he stepped into the box. He looked toward the benches on which the jury was seated, and said: "Well, young feller, I ain't no spunk, but them there do sure to be likely girls."

The first question put to each was whether he belonged to the church. From the number who answered in the negative there was considerable missionary work to be done in Los Angeles.

After being questioned for full minutes yesterday, one witness remarked:

"I ain't been to no church for years, but I ain't missed a chance to go to church for thirty, and that ought to be some."

Four of the prospective jurors, accompanied by their wives, were questioned by the judge. Each was asked to tell the truth, and the questions truthfully, this they attempted to do.

"Do you know what a house of kind is?" queried Prosecuting Attorney Eddie. The juror looked worried.

"Yes," he finally answered. "Have you ever been in one of those houses?" continued the attorney.

WIFE MAKES HIM NERVOUS.
Back among the spectators of the jury box arose slightly from her seat and her eyes were fixed remorsefully on the face of the man in the box. Even through the gloom of the courtroom the man saw the misadventure, adding, in a sort of apology, "I was showing a friend of mine."

"I show you about the city where you live," remarked the juror on the back seat, as she waited for testimony.

"These houses is a necessary evil," the question put to the next juror, "and, sometimes, I call the juror."

"Explain your remark," advised the attorney.

"Well," said the juror, "when I think over with my wife, for some reason, I can't argue with her. She has the same sort of way that I have with a man, and she always convinces me that it is wrong. When I argue with my male, I am all right, but that it is a necessary evil."

The fourth juror called was a middle-aged rancher. As he walked forward and stepped into the jury box, it was evident he intended to make himself clearly understood on the subject.

"Do you know Tom Savage?" asked the prosecuting attorney.

"I don't know no savages," came the reply.

"What is your opinion of houses of this kind?" suggested the attorney.

"Aw, I don't," said the rancher. "Why don't you leave the whole thing and take a crack at these employees' salaries that put 'em there? I don't see how a middle-aged householder can get to muddle with these girls. They ain't harmin' no one, I had let 'em alone, and all right, that'll stop them, and it ain't no worryin' those girls none."

The number of answers from many in the courtroom at this point, "Dat's de talk, de talk," said one of the followers of the tenderloin in admiration.

At the afternoon session of court the dozen or more women of the Arlington Hotel who had been summoned as witnesses in the case, lined up inside the door of the courtroom and the close atmosphere became punctuated with the odor of perfume in its most aggravated form.

One blonde woman scanned the faces of the men in the jury box until her eye rested on a middle-aged bald-headed individual to whom she gave a most entrancing smile. Then, turning to her companion, she began to make remarks about the juror. The favorite, instead of appreciating the kind attention, delivered a lecture in the direction of the blonde.

Another prospective juror informed the attorney that he not only had been in the Arlington, but that he had seen some of the rest of this bunch in there.

ALL SEEM EMBARRASSED.
As he looked about the room, as though seeking out a victim, there was a general ducking of heads, as though to avoid recognition.

After the men had all given their opinions regarding everything from race suicide to holding hands in Central Park after dark, seven jurors were selected and the rest will be chosen today.

But the astounding part of the proceedings occurred during the preliminary session, when "Billy" Pedd, of doubtful nationality and of still more doubtful association, delivered the above of the following oration to his friends on the corridor of the station:

"Say, yuh yuh 'link' Tom Savage has reformed. Dat's one to level, sure. Didn't yuh see de white shirt, he's got on and de sanctified look in his face? Say, de one on de level. De boss de de Eight has done ditched and joined de Salvation Army."

Savage later confirmed the report. "I am not living in the Eighth Ward any longer," said the ex-Councilman.

"I never harmed this Willy Phillips, and until I saw him in the courtroom today I had never laid eyes on him before, and he never saw me before."

The prosecution has subpoenaed thirty or forty witnesses, while I haven't secured a single witness in my behalf. This action against me may be all crucified work, but it smells like a little politics mixed in."

PART II: EDITORIAL, LOCAL AND BUSINESS SECTION

New Points

A smart man is one who can make other people smart.

We think San Francisco is between the devil and the deep sea on four sides.

An overwhelming majority of the people are in favor of Mr. Bryan for a third defeat.

It is a good scheme to occasionally worry a little over ways and means to keep out of worry.

As we understand Mr. Taft, Uncle Sam made a wise move when he went into the island business.

San Francisco evidently regards prosperity as an enemy to be combated at every turn of the road.

It is rather in favor of Mr. Fairbanks that he still appears to be quite friendly with the President.

The situation in San Francisco has come to the point where it has got on the nerves of the whole country.

The Russian Democrats having split up into factions proves that they are not merely make-believe Democrats.

It is some consolation to the man who can't own an automobile to know that he wouldn't live so long if he had one.

Mexico announces that she is in no hurry to lambast Guatemala. She knows she can do it any time she feels like it.

Between the lines of Mr. Heney's "tatement" it is not difficult to observe the satisfied smile of the labor unions.

The public cannot shake off the suspicion that back of the persecution of Patrick Calhoun there is an ulterior motive.

Perhaps it is not to be wondered at that a Stanford student lost his mind after listening to one of Mr. Heney's speeches.

Doubtless Mr. Heney is as conscious as other people are of the fact that the making of excuses is a sign of weakness.

It seems wonderful that so many rich men marry chorus girls for the mere pleasure of paying alimony to them later on.

Instead of being punished for their venality the San Francisco Board of Supervisors is rewarded as for meritorious service.

The dark horse that Henry Watterson is grooming for the Presidential race may refuse at the last minute to come out of the barn.

All classes of the people favor the Owens River bond except one little coterie which is not large enough to be classified as a class.

The popular belief has come to be that when Rudolph Spreckels came forward to show his hand he merely showed the back of it.

Is Chief Dinan about to be retained in office, even after he has confessed himself guilty of the crime of embezzlement? O hopeless San Francisco!

In his Jamestown speech Mr. Bryan wondered what is the best thing for the country to do. While he is wondering the country is doing it.

What hurts Heney and Spreckels more than anything else is the dogged persistency with which they hold criminals in office to rule the people.

The Chicagoans who attended Gen. Kuroki's dinner doubtless understood the eatables and the drinkables without the service of an interpreter.

What the country desires to do is to show Mr. Roosevelt that it can elect him twice as easily as it did some others, and maybe almost more so.

A widespread curiosity would be satisfied if the rich men who marry chorus girls would state which court the most—the marriage or the divorce.

When a young woman marries a man who is poor she ought to make it a part of the bargain that he will not try to shake her should he become rich.

On the other hand there are a great many girls in this country who do not think it worth while to go on the stage in order to capture rich husbands.

Walking is undoubtedly the best of exercises. Look at actors for instance. They do not live nearly so long now as they did before the show business began to pay.

Properly interpreted, Mr. Heney's idea is that the business men of San Francisco are engaged in a criminal conspiracy to prevent their city from going to the devil.

Senator Creel contends that there will be no war between Mexico and Guatemala, but points out the fact that even he might be mistaken the Mexican troops can be found already lined up on the border.

as to meet the imperative demands of our internal commerce.

The want can be met only by private capital, and the vast expenditure necessary for such purpose will not be incurred unless private capital is afforded reasonable incentive and protection.

It is therefore a prime necessity to allow investments in railway property to earn a liberal return, a return sufficiently liberal to cover all risks.

"We cannot get an improved service unless the carriers of the country can feed their securities, and therefore nothing should be done unwarrantedly to impair their credit nor to decrease the value of their outstanding obligations."

"I emphatically believe that positive restraint should be imposed upon the railway corporations, and that they should be required to meet positive obligations in the interests of the general public."

"It is not emphatically believed that in thus regulating and controlling the affairs of the railways, it is necessary to recognize the need of an immense outlay of money from private sources and the certainty that they will not be met without the assurance of a sufficient reward to induce the necessary investment."

"It is plainly inadvisable for the government to undertake to control the physical operation of the railways save in wholly exceptional cases; and the supervision and control it exercises should be both entirely adequate to secure its ends and yet no more harassing than is necessary to secure these ends."

"I believe that the railroad men of the United States are coming to more perfect sense of the responsibilities of the relation which they bear to the public and of the dignity of that relation."

It has been asserted by some of those engaged in the management of the railroads and of other business enterprises that the attitude of the federal government and the known policy of the President were exercising a disastrous influence upon railroad and other business. Surely in this discourse Mr. Roosevelt has shown to the line on both sides of the log. He has undoubtedly given expression to convictions too deeply seated to be eradicated from the minds of the American people, taking them very generally. The President's words should remove all false notions as to the aim of the government to unduly interfere with the management of railroad or other business. The purpose expressed in this speech is to bring the relations between the common carriers of the country and the general public upon such a plane of business fairness, of simple justice, and of accordance with the laws that both shall work in harmony.

The President is quite right in his view that the people desire nothing that is not right, just and reasonable, and that the majority of men who control the capital of the country, and through that capital its industries, are disposed in their own hearts to do what is just and right. The purpose of the federal government is to remove misunderstandings on the one side and on the other to compel the evil-disposed railroad men to act within the provisions of the law; and the teaching of the President to the mass of the people is that they need the service of these corporations and should help, not hinder, them in the pursuit of their business.

THE OUTLOOK FOR WHEAT.

Everything points to a short crop of wheat, not only in the United States but in all the wheat-producing countries of the northern hemisphere, and in some of those in the southern hemisphere. According to the government figures, the winter-wheat crop of the United States is likely to be nearly one million bushels short. The acreage is short about three million acres, and the crop is going to be light on most of the area. A good deal of wheat in the winter-wheat belt has been entirely killed, and a good deal more has been damaged by "green blight" which has spread over the northern part of Texas, over the Indian Territory, Oklahoma, nearly all of Kansas, one-half of Missouri, and a small part of Southeastern Nebraska. It has also attacked the crop in parts of Southern Indiana and Southern Illinois.

The spring-wheat crop is likely to be as unsuccessful as that of the winter-wheat. The cold, late spring has prevented the seeding of a large share of the fall-plowed land and prevented spring plowing entirely. This is true in all Western Canada and in the Dakotas in our own country. There seems to be little hope that our crop of wheat in North America this year will approach anywhere near that of several years past.

The foreign outlook is almost as gloomy. Western Europe is suffering from a late spring similar to that in our own Western States. The great wheat-producing country, Hungary, promises a very indifferent crop. In fact, the only promising wheat crop in Europe is that of France. Down in India the same forbidding conditions prevail.

Now, so far as this will affect America, there is great likelihood that the loss will be greatly exaggerated. We have had immense wheat crops and corn crops for several years past. We have had great grain surpluses for weeks past at seeing one city official after another, though reeking in their own self-confessed corruption, treated still as if they were worthy of confidence, worthy of holding and administering high official functions, charged with the government of the city, effusively embraced by grand juries, not simply tolerated but cordially welcomed on every hand, as if the pirate and the most patriotic citizen. We have not done yet. We do not forget, we can not forget in the face of Mr. Heney's off-repeated proclamations, that he is after some person or persons whom he designates as "those higher up." Of course, Mr. Spreckels and Mr. Heney may have knowledge in their possession which they have not yet thought fit to give to the public. The public cannot form views to base opinions upon any information kept sealed by the prosecutor and his backers. We are not clamoring that wheat. The larger the crop and the lower the price, the greater amount to transport, and the stiffer the freight rates and ship rate from the seaports. With a short crop there will be more competition to handle it, more concessions made in the way of rates, both by rail and by ship. The American farmers will have an opportunity of cleaning up their immense surplus of wheat and corn held back upon the farms at prices which will return them nearly twice the net profits they would have received had the world's wheat crop been large and prices low.

MR. HENEY'S HYSTERIA.

Public opinion is at last awakened in San Francisco. It is facing a crisis. Without desiring, much less attempting, to condone the wrongdoings of any person, rich or poor, or to say one word to shield an offender of either class from the punishment justly due, the Times has insisted and continues to insist that the question in that city which overtops all others is the conflict between the labor unions under the leadership of men like Richard Cornelius, backed up and protected by their creatures, the felonious Mayor, Chief of Police, the police force under Chief Dinan, and the Board of Supervisors, and on the other side those who control and operate the industries of the city. Until this conflict is settled, and settled in one way, there is no possibility of peace, progress or prosperity for our northern neighbor.

After years of vacillation, a wisdom begotten of experience has been developed in the minds of the people of the city. They have reached the conclusion, and seem inclined to hold fast to it, that the fight at the present time must be fought to a finish.

Here is the only point of conflict between Mr. Heney and the people of San Francisco. They have stood by Heney, backed by Heney, and let Heney have his way during this whole effort on his part to unearth the corruption that has settled on the city and to bring the corruptionists to punishment. Mr. Heney may look at it in one way and Mr. Spreckels, in his dull attempt at reasoning, may see it in a certain light. But any conflict between Mr. Spreckels and his prosecutor and the public of San Francisco is directly of their own creating. However it may appear to a great number of the people, this is not the case. This millionaire citizen and this earnest prosecutor in his pay, the people of San Francisco, in our opinion, are quite naturally apprehensive, and indeed resentful, as they see this prosecution day after day take more the shape of a farce than of an earnest and wisely conducted effort to rid the city of its corruptionists.

Probably all that the people of San Francisco desire to have done is that which "The Times" has long seen. We have had grave misgivings for weeks past at seeing one city official after another, though reeking in their own self-confessed corruption, treated still as if they were worthy of confidence, worthy of holding and administering high official functions, charged with the government of the city, effusively embraced by grand juries, not simply tolerated but cordially welcomed on every hand, as if the pirate and the most patriotic citizen. We have not done yet. We do not forget, we can not forget in the face of Mr. Heney's off-repeated proclamations, that he is after some person or persons whom he designates as "those higher up." Of course, Mr. Spreckels and Mr. Heney may have knowledge in their possession which they have not yet thought fit to give to the public. The public cannot form views to base opinions upon any information kept sealed by the prosecutor and his backers. We are not clamoring that they lay down their hands on the table and show us every card they hold. We concede that they may be entirely justified in holding back this information, and that when the time is ripe and they do show their hands, the public will be satisfied.

What the Times has demanded from the very beginning, and what the public of San Francisco probably now see as the right thing to demand, is that this investigation and prosecution be not one-sided. Mr. Heney, in a fit of hysteria, screams about the confidence the public are withholding from him. Is it any wonder that the real people of that city, its taxpayers, business men, men of affairs, men of achievement, the men on whose action and judgment the industries and prosperity of the city depend, should be apprehensive and in a measure resentful as they contemplate the awful possibility, so far as any human eye can see now, of the practical acquittal of this whole infamous clique of labor-union office holders, reeking with their corruption, fattened by robbery and graft, and not only their escape from punishment, but their possible indefinite continuance in office? Side by side with this apparently certain result, there arises also the even graver possibility of permitting these labor union leaders to remain in office, to increase that grasp upon the business of the city.

Let us assume that Mr. Heney, backed by Mr. Spreckels' guidance and purse, will reach these men "higher up." Let us assume that they have something besides the testimony of a gang of perjurers, confessed liars and thieves, upon which to base the prosecution of certain business men of the city. Let us assume for the purpose of this argument that they will succeed in putting Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Mulholland, and half a dozen other rich men in a suit of stripes. Suppose all that is done, and the yellow-dog supervisors, with that arch-conspirator, grafter and thief, Rufus, his partner, Schmitz, the indescribable Gallagher, the stupid, blundering Dinan, and all the rest of those who have brought such trouble upon San Francisco, shall go free, or practically free, then we say that in such an event the public will have more than just cause to hold in contemptuous disrespect and in bitter, unforgiving resentment this investigation, prosecution and all connected with it.

Such an outcome of Mr. Heney's activity and of the expenditure of Mr. Spreckels' money would be to fix for years to come the grasp of the labor unions upon the city of San Francisco. It would be to saddle upon it as the controllers of its industries and destinies, and the indirect administrators of its municipal affairs this gang of vicious, cold-blooded robbers and murderers who have been making its streets a hell.

CAUGHT AGAIN.

The Evening News asserts that Engineers Mulholland and Lippincott made a blundering estimate of $352,128, to City Engineer Hamlin, on the cost of completing the outfall sewer. City Engineer Hamlin says: "So far as I know, Mulholland and Lippincott never estimated the cost of completing the outfall sewer. I never saw nor heard of any estimate on the work made by Mulholland."

The Evening News is desperate and silly, and worse.

An octogenarian in Chicago says that the way to live to be 100 years of age is to be aware of doctors and to eat what you please. It might be a good idea to also keep out of the way of street cars and automobiles, and not to make a practice of riding on railroad trains.

"The first duty of every good citizen is to aid in the preservation of law and order," unctuously says Mr. Heney. Yes? By maintaining self-confessed criminals in office?

SOME DESERT REFLECTIONS.

There is no desert. It is a thing of the past.

There used to be a desert—a desert full of fear and trembling, hunger, thirst and dead men's bones.

But the desert has been abolished, has become a memory, with the ex cart and the scalp-taking Indian.

The railroads, criss-crossing the plains and mountains, perforating every corner of the grass-covered region, began the transformation of the desert, irrigation performed prodigies; and the automobile has done the rest.

People used to shudder when you spoke of "Death Valley."

Only a few years ago it was a darling man who ventured down the Funeral Range into that spot. If a man did it and came back safe and sound, he was pointed out as a character.

Now there is not a day when somebody does not pass through Death Valley in an automobile.

Along the line of the black railroad from Las Vegas to Rhyolite, Goldfield, and Tonopah are stretches of land where each other to make power a brightly light these once-waste-places to make them fountains of colored globes to drive their wheels and grind their gold. The desert's own water is making its night as day, its bleakness as a bee-hive and a garden.

down hundreds of feet without getting a sign of values, while everybody ridiculed him and his "folly." Perseverance won its reward, and he finally struck what is said to be one of the richest streaks in the whole section. It is now consolidated in the Jim Butler Mining Company.

A number of these fine stone houses are going up in Goldfield. The editor of the Goldfield Daily News is building one. Several business blocks will be built there of the material—another contribution of the "desert" to the riches of man. We are just beginning to realize that God made nothing in vain. And does it ever fail that whenever in this world an emergency arises, both the man and the material are at hand?

What need of hauling lumber hundreds of miles from the centers of so-called civilization and paying $6 per thousand for it to build homes in the so-called desert—and shabby homes at that—when the desert has offered this handsome and durable building material?

The shacks, by the way, still spot these desert cities; they squat in the alleys and are spread out over the progress is this; that they are doing for $40 per month; but their day is passing. Comfortable and permanent homes are replacing them. A few years hence, when these flimsy structures will only linger around the edges.

"No, I do not forget water when reflecting upon the passing of the desert—do not forget the great irrigation enterprises; do not forget the agricultural possibilities."

It seems to me that one of the most significant facts of current life and progress is this: that they are doing for $40 per month; but their day is passing. Comfortable and permanent homes are replacing them. A few years hence, when these flimsy structures will only linger around the edges.

In spots where a few years ago it would have been deemed absurd to think of planting a town, by reason of the apparently absolute absence of water, wells are now sunk and water gushes forth.

In the new town of Beatty they go down thirty feet and find all the water they wish.

One of those upside-down streams the Armadillo River, in appearance a dry bed of gravel, is tapped and furnishes abundant water for the growing town of Rhyolite and other settlements.

Right in the town of Goldfield, supposedly destitute of anything like water, successful wells have been bored. Goldfield, under county government, but soon to be incorporated as a city, with a Mayor and Council, has well-laid plans for an excellent waterworks system, having found a good supply of water at a depth of 100 feet.

The waterworks would have been in operation ere this had it not been for a grievous error in the manufacture of the mains.

But the main fact is that the water is at hand. Towns are located without the slightest regard to the water question; the gold anchors them; but as soon as they are located, the water is at hand. The desert has been abolished, has become a memory, with the ex cart and the scalp-taking Indian.

The railroads, criss-crossing the plains and mountains, perforating every corner of the grass-covered region, began the transformation of the desert, irrigation performed prodigies; and the automobile has done the rest.

People used to shudder when you spoke of "Death Valley."

Only a few years ago it was a darling man who ventured down the Funeral Range into that spot. If a man did it and came back safe and sound, he was pointed out as a character.

Now there is not a day when somebody does not pass through Death Valley in an automobile.

To each her municipal supply from a few miles away; and another miles distant, in another corner, the so-called desert, she finds quantities of water to run an oil mill plant. And streams of snow-tipped mountains tumble down to other to make power to light these once-waste-places, as they feast of colored globes, with their wheels and grind out their night as day, its bleakness, and a garden.

It is not beyond possibilities that another River, spring up in Southern Nevada, can only dream of what development may take. But here, there is no desert. PLAYERS AND PLAYHOUSES.

Mrs. Leslie Carter played "Zaza" at the Mason Opera-house last night. There can be no comparisons to Mrs. Carter in "Zaza." She is the one Zaza, and all the rest are in the class of the imitators.

Yet it cannot be said that her impersonation has improved with years. It has retained its peculiarly wonderful touch of real, sordid human nature; it has held its incisive sarcasms; it has lost none of its bitter-sweet elemental passions. But it has lost its force. Where the actress once made every moment tense with fiery emotion, in moments now pass in somnolence, in her climaxes, only, is she fully herself.

With all these things considered, Mrs. Carter is the only real Zaza who has ever lived in this country. The role is hers. It is not only "adapted" about hers, but every fiber of her personality, her every fiber of her peculiar interpretative intelligence is perfectly adapted to the Zaza portrayal.

Studied as a transcript of humanity, Zaza will remain Mrs. Carter's greatest role.

The alleged "support" was straggling and disreputable, a disgrace to the star, an insult to people who paid for high-priced seats, and a consistent testimonial to the sordid methods employed in this country in financing the much-abused "starring tour."

BITS OF VERSE.

Beautiful Living.
Keep the sunshine in your heart;
Wear a smile;
Live a happy, hopeful life
All the while.
Do some helpful work each day
As God's leading lights the way.

Ask for calmness from Above;
Keep your place;
Let the Master's mind and thought
Help you trace
Heaven's purpose, day by day,
In a noiseless, tender way.

Days will come and days will go,
Yet 'tis well;
For in joy or sorrow's hour
Life shall spell
God's dear message, line by line,
In this life of yours and mine.
—J. Mench Chambers.

The Contrite Love.
One called me on a night of wind and rain
And I arose and drew the casement wide
"Now, be thou friend or enemy," I cried,
"Enter to shelter and the peace thereof."
This night to neither is my heart denied.
And from out the darkness one replied,
"Nor friend nor foe am I, but only Love."
And as I stood, irresolute, I heard
The steps of one departing, and a sigh,
"I would that I had been thine enemy!"

I have forgotten many and many a guest
For whom I lit my lamps and gave my best.
And when he would depart
I would I might forget the other.

Who found the board unspread,
The hearth grown cold,
The tender task of welcoming undone.
Why should this thought be ever in my breast?
I have forgotten many a welcomed guest—
I would I might forget the other!

(Theodosia Garrison, in Broadway Magazine.)

The Cloud Fleet.
There sailed a snowy fleet today
Upon a fair, blue sea;
Over the pathless waste it went
Solely and gallantly.
It had no captain but the wind,
No masts nor crew there were,
No cargo for its carrying—
Fleet nor passenger.

Silently moved the glistening band,
And not a waverlet
Or dash of spray against a gliding
Hull of all that fleet.
Sometimes a wild bird dipped and touched,
But never a sight of land
Across the clear, dark waters sweep
Showed out on any hand.

It sailed till evening came, and when
The sunset faded fast
Each vessel in the company
Flew colors at its mast.
And waved gay pennons to the sun,
As it forged ahead,
In an new sails of gaily stuff—
Rose-pink and gold and red.

Then twilight closed, and in the dusk,
At shadowy port and stern
Came out slowly, one by one,
Star signal-lights to burn.
And out of sight the Cloud Fleet Passed.

Upon its quiet quest
A tender, after nightfall, in Some far port of the west.
—Nannie Burd Turner, in Youth's Companion.

The Poet's Sleep.
"In spite of all I am going to sleep,
Put out the lights."—(Thomas Bailey Aldrich.)
Ever when slept the poet his dreams were music.
And in sweet song lived the dear
dream once more.
So when from sleep and dreams again
he wakes—
One from the world of symbols passing forth
Into that spirit-world where all is real—
That muffled music, now and exquisite,
Shall strike on ears celestial,—where Reverent among the immortal melodies!
—Richard Watson Gilder, in the Atlantic Monthly.

California.
"Queen of the oaks and the popples,
Daughter of the strong and the fair,
Here, on the breast of the hillsides,
Gaze we thy flag of the bear.
Ours of the strong cometh sweetness,
Forth from the hills dappled dawn,
Forth thou shalt lift us and guide us,
Strong—thou art established for aye!"

"Hail from our hearts, California,
For through thine oaks let it ring!
Weathering thy brows with the pop-
ples!"

Thus do we honor and sing,
Thine be an image of beauty
In our hearts for a light,
Strength for the true and the right.
—L. E. Anderson, in Blue and Gold.

When one of the leading makers of women's shirt waists offered us his "overlines" at a ridiculously little price, you may be sure we didn't give him a chance to change his mind. These twenty different styles of fresh, new summer waists represent those that manufacturers make up for their regular trade--they're perfect in every respect and the very sorts that, if we bought them earlier, we should have to ask $5 or even more for.

White lawns and batistes are the materials--fine grades of both; trimmings are clever arrangements of tiny group tuckings to form yokes; insertions of alternating lace and embroidery in the fronts and sleeves; attached stock collars of lace or of embroidered material; short sleeves, as befits summer styles, and open backs to allow of prettier trimmings to the fronts.

Not a single waist is included which would not easily bring $4 or $5; yet we offer you your choice of a score of styles at $3.50 each. All sizes, of course.

All Sorts of Silks
At Half Value

No woman who's ever bought silks at one of our half-price sales will need a second invitation to help herself to the splendid values we shall offer today. And though we always have variety and quantity in plenty, today's assortment will better even our best previous records, for there are more silks, longer pieces, in more fashionable weaves and shades, than we've ever had to sell at half price before, simply because brisk buying has left an unusual number of odd pieces and lengths in its wake.

You'll find plain black silks, plain white silks, plain colors in every good shade; foulards, taffetas, louisines, messalines, Peau de Cygne--but what's the use of enumerating them all--EVERY good weave is here; there are plaids, stripes, checks, polka dots, neat figures, Jacquard designs, etc., in plenty, and lengths sufficient for linings, separate waists, skirts, and in many instances whole gowns. Every piece at half marked price--which is its every-day retail figure--not some fictitious valuation.

purpose of voting, he should use it each individual case, and in actual fact.

Of course, in the larger concerns it would be necessary to have a greater number of workers and I think this plan would be practical among such bodies of voters as the city railway men, letter carriers and other organizations.

I met these suggestions in addition to the different campaign methods that are usually employed, and I think it would relieve the precinct workers of a great deal of burden and insure the polling of a large vote.

FLOW OF OWENS RIVER.
Government Records Show an Average of Nearly Twenty-four Thousand Inches This Year.

In refutation of the reiterated nonsense that the city of Los Angeles owns "only an interest in 4000 inches of water in Owens Valley," the results of official observations by hydrographers of the United States Geological Survey are given here:

Daily mean discharge of Owens River at Charlie's Butte for the year 1907.

Discharge in 1907.

Month-	Max.	Min.	Mean.	Total in acre-feet
January	627	469	528	22,44
February	613	425	527	28,04
March	1,490	411	764	43,41
April	573	189	359	19,94
May (25 days) ..	238	164	243	12,05
Period of 145 days ..			473	136,01

The mean discharge, 473 second-feet per second, is equivalent to 22,454 acre-feet for the period.

During the summer months the flow of Owens River will be greater than during the period covered by the above report. All the water in Owens River at Charlie's Butte and below belongs to the city. In addition to rights in ditches above.

Do You Think We Could Afford to Advertise Continuously If Property Was Not Selling Rapidly?

And the hard-headed business men who are buying and building at Beverly Hills would never do so if investigation had not proved that the property was worth snapping up.

If the exclamations of those who step off the car and for the first time see Beverly Hills spread out before them—if these spontaneous remarks could be generalized, they would run: "How magnificent! I never dreamed it was really like this."

So many people have had their credulity deadened by extensively advertised tracts that proved, when visited, to be simply ordinary subdivisions with "paper improvements," that it is always a sharp surprise for them to find Beverly Hills even more sumptuous and substantial than we could possibly describe in print.

Perhaps you, yourself, do not fully and seriously appreciate what it means—a grand high grade residence district lifted high above Wilshire Boulevard, with miles of superb avenues winding into the foothills.

Not a pioneer district. Beverly Hills is as close to the city as safety from the encroachment of business traffic will permit.

If not another house were planned in addition to those that are already assured, Beverly Hills would be comparatively well occupied. That's a great consideration and the result of the conveniences that make Beverly Hills "ready-to-live-on."

Yes, Beverly Hills is naturally the most attractive residence property in California, and as for improvements, the expenditure is so far greater than that of any tract ever put on the market in Los Angeles that a comparison is impossible.

Prices are not only low but inviting and assuring. Prices are lower than necessary as far as selling is concerned. In fact, several owners interested in Beverly Hills have constantly urged an increase fully justified by the value of the raw land plus what is given with it.

An investigation will at least convince you that money put into a home at Beverly Hills will be as securely and profitably invested as though used in your own business.

Large lots and also country places of 2 to 5 acres (these with sewer, gas, electricity, water, just as though located in the heart of Los Angeles.)

John Henry Somerset, who has been to the cause of temperance in England what Frances Willard was in America, is announced that he will retire from public life at the next season.

A gift of $5000 by Marquis Ito to Japan to assist in defraying the expenses of the Student Christian Federation held in Tokio recently, is an indication of the interest of the Japanese toward Christianity.

Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army, recently celebrated his sixtieth birthday while on his voyage to Japan. In recognition of the event his fellow passengers presented him with a token of their esteem and reaching Yokohama a public reception was given by the city authorities was tendered him.

At the Unitarian anniversary, held during the last week in May in Boston, the Rev. Mr. May, of that denomination gave reports of the work in all sections of the nation. Dr. Cragg, of New York, reported that he has recently been connected with the Unitarian heresy in his doctrinal belief, was one of the speakers.

The wealthiest parish in America, not in the world, is stated to be Trinity Episcopal Church of New York City. It is supposed to contribute one per cent of the income goes to the support of six chapels, twelve parish schools and a hospital. It is also reported that the church gives to twenty-six churches, hospitals and missions.

The Rev. Dr. Cragg, of the Episcopal Diocese of North America, has been held in Jamestown, Va. Matters of the day, his presentation included the subjects of the temperance movement, the Baptist World Alliance in 1910, the National Brotherhood, Church Federation, a national temperance movement, arbitration and divorce.

The Bishop of London is expected to visit America next fall, and one of his subjects on this occasion will be the temperance movement. He is in Virginia, almost 200 years after it was organized. This church was the success of the temperance movement in Jamestown. The date set for the consecration is October 10. The line of descent is so recent in that it is the first time a Bishop of London has visited America.

On the 17th of June the Pope sent a message to the American Catholic community by an American Catholic, but the fact that he declined, notwithstanding the fact that he is an American, is a recent caste. Another American is planning to visit the Pope at the Vatican, St. Louis, is now said to be planning to visit the Pope at the Vatican.

Christian Endeavor.

THE COMPANIONSHIP OF CHRIST.
These Comments on the Uniform Prayer-Book of the Christian Endeavor Society, June 1, 1907.
—John A. M. Ellis.

Mary in the Garden knew him not. The two upon their sorrowful way did not recognize their companion. May it not be that we also must sometimes of the presence of the risen Christ along our sorrowful way? For ministry is the appointed method of communion and he who gives himself to Christ's brethren is living in the very presence of Christ.—Brainard Campbell.

Dear Lord and Father of mankind, Pardon our feverish ways, In purer lives thy service find, In deeper reverence praise.—Whittier.

The loving, human sympathy of Jesus. His tender treatment of His uncomprehending and stumbling disciples. His completeness of self-sacrifice. His sinless life. His vicarious death. His glorious resurrection and His promised return should be themes upon which we often meditate if we would realize His presence. Like the Greek old, we should often pray, "We would see Jesus."

Who does his best shall have as a Guest The Master of life and light.—Van Dyke.

While we speak, He hears; before we call, He answers. We have to wait for many of His gifts, never for Himself.—MacLaren.

The indwelling presence of Christ cannot be explained, but it can be experienced.

Personal religion is, after all, essentially communion with Christ. Without real and personal intercourse between the Lord and His disciples, the latter can know nothing of the peace and joy which God bestows or of the power in living that is the heritage of the Christian. Those who show most of the likeness of Christ in their character are those to whom He is a familiar friend.

We kneel, how weak, we rise, how full of power; Why, therefore, should we do ourselves this wrong? Or others—that we are not always strong. That we are ever overcome with care, That we should ever weep or heart- less be, Anxious or troubled, when with us is prayer, And joy and strength and courage are with Thee?—[French].

All these passages to and fro of faithful prayer and grateful shade and the voices of murmuring winds and threatening thunders, are but to deepen in our hearts the acceptance and distinctness and dear- ness of the simple words—"Our Father which art in heaven."—[Ruskin].

If you would know the presence of Christ in the heart, dwell much in thought upon that peerless life lived amid the holy hills of Palestine. Call to mind the usefulness of Christ and His constant self-sacrifices in service. Find the marks of royalty in the triumphant death for us. Then our lives will assume somewhat of the beauty and nobility of that life which began in Galilee and was laid down in Calvary.

"Grant, O Lord, that I may know Thee more clearly, may love Thee more dearly, and follow Thee more nearly."

To do Thy will is more than praise As words are less than deeds, And simple trust can find Thy ways We miss with chaff of words.—[Whittier].

A PRAYER FOR GOD'S CONTINUAL PRESENCE.

"Jesus, kneel beside me In the dawn of day; Thine is prayer's entrance— Teach me how to pray!"
"Master, work beside me In the shining sun; Gently guide Thy servant Till the work be done."
"Savior, watch beside me In the closing light; Lo, the evening cometh— Watch with me this night!"
"Birds are winging homeward, Sun and shadow cease, Savior, take my spirit To Thy perfect peace."

NEWS AND NOTES.

Two organizations for men in the Methodist Church, the Wesley Brotherhood, and the St. Paul Brotherhood, are talking of uniting the two bodies.

Lady Henry Somerset, who has been to the cause of temperance in England and France, and who was in this country, has announced that she will retire from public life after this season.

The gift of $5000 by Marquis Ito of Japan to assist in defraying the expenses of the Christian Federation held in Tokyo recently, is an indication of the attitude of the new Japan toward Christianity.

Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army, recently celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday while on his voyage to Japan. In recognition of the event his fellow-passengers presented him with a token of their esteem, and on reaching Yokohama a public reception and a hospital, in addition to the aid which the church gives to twenty-six other churches, hospitals and missions.

The second convention of the Baptist of North America has recently been held in Jamestown, Va. Matters discussed at the convention included the subject of the proposed meeting of the Baptist World Alliance in 1910.

The Bishop of London is expected to visit America next fall, and one of his duties on this occasion will be the consecration of Bruton Church in Virginia, almost 200 years after it was organized. This church was the successor of the first church at Jamestown, a national Christian ceremony of consecration is October 18. The event is significant in that it is the first time a Bishop of London has ever visited America.

A new residence for the Pope out of Italy was recently offered to him by an American Catholic, but the offer was declined, notwithstanding the fact that the residence was a magnificent castle. Another American, a resident of St. Louis, is now said to be planning to buy a strip of land

SYSTEM CLOGGED?

Make the most of the help to clear it by throwing of their share of the waste. If the clogged kidneys are overworked. Look closely in your mirror. If the pores look like tiny dusky spots, 1/16 to 1/8 of an inch apart, the curly little sweat ducts and the larger oil ducts are clogged like this—

But according to orders they should have been delivered to us more than sixty days ago. We refused them on account of the late arrival. All sizes are included in the lot, but there are only a few suits of each size. They go on sale this morning, so be on hand early, if you want to secure the biggest suit snap you ever saw. $24.50 instead of $30, $35 or $40, for your choice of the lot.

As to fit, we guarantee that no tailor in Los Angeles or elsewhere can fit you more perfectly. Our guarantee stands right back of every one and your money will be waiting for you if you're not satisfied with your suit when you get it home. See the window display.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

GOPHER CAUSES DAM BREAK.

SANTIAGO CREEK RESERVOIR IS EMPTIED.

Loss Will Not Do So Much Harm This Year as It Would Do in a Drier Season—Stream Is Strong and a Good Deal of Water Will Be Saved for Summer Irrigation.

SANTA ANA, May 31.—A gopher hole caused the Santiago Creek dam of the John T. Carpenter Water Company and the Serrano Water Company to break yesterday afternoon, and those two water companies lost the water they had stored in the reservoir for summer use. The reservoir site is on Joe Davis ranch, a short distance above the point, where the Santiago Creek breaks into the open country.

A dirt-dam held back water that covered ten acres of seven of eight feet deep. At 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the break was discovered, but by that time almost all the water was gone down the creek. The water was not so greatly missed this year as it would have been the winter drier. The Santiago has been flowing strong and there will be quite a lot saved for summer irrigation. The two water companies supply El Modena and Villa Park territory.

DIDN'T HURT HIM. E. M. Nealey of Tustin, member of the County Board of Education, has just returned from a trip to Clark, Neb., and on that trip he noted seven railroad accidents, some of which came near reaching, but missed him.

On the way East the train that preceded his train was the ill-fated Santa Fe passenger that was wrecked at La Junta, thirty people being killed and injured. The train following him was derailed. On the return trip over the Union Pacific and Salt Lake, a freight train was derailed while taking a siding to let the passenger by. Two hours later a cylinder head on the passenger blew out. A piston rod on the engine broke. Had the rod broken an hour earlier the engine would have been overturned. At 9 o'clock a freight train in front was wrecked in a tunnel, and at 4 o'clock another freight wreck took place at Las Vegas.

REWARD OFFERED. A hundred dollars reward is offered by the Edison Electric Company for information and conviction of the person or persons who, on the night of May 29, threw a wire, to each end of which was attached a horseshoe, over the company's transmission wires across the Santa Ana River. This was the second time horseshoes and wire have been so used on the Santa Ana. The short-circuiting blew out a fuse at Puente and put Santa Ana, Anaheim, and Long Beach in darkness from 9:30 o'clock until 11 o'clock last night.

SANTA ANA NOTES. Appointments are two weeks earlier this year than they were last year, and already some of the luscious fruit is being shipped to market. The crop is small, a disastrous rain having destroyed the bloom in the fruit set. W. A. Stafford, who was twice tried on a charge of forging the name of Mrs. H. Field to a $1000 note, has been hung, after hearing the evidence against Stafford, and the District Attorney says he cannot find any new evidence against him.

A fine of $200, with orders to pay it

In twenty-five minutes or so to jail, was the sentence given Mrs. Dina Czarske, convicted of running a blind pig, this afternoon, by City Recorder J. A. Willson. Mrs. Czarske's attorney, J. Howard Bell, gave notice of appeal to the Superior Court, claiming error in that City Marshal L. M. Edwards had made up his mind as to the guilt of the defendant when he served the venire from which the jury was chosen that tried the woman. Mrs. Czarske is out on $300 cash bail.

STRYCHNINE IS FOUND IN BEER.

CHEMIST REPORTS IN CASE IN SAN BERNARDINO.

Deadly Poison Is Found in Two Bottles of the Beverage—Prisoner Refuses to Eat and Acts Mysteriously Most of the Time—His Case Proves a Puzzle to the Officers.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 31.—C. H. Graves, alias Venson, the alleged wife poisoner, will have to face the charge of attempting to murder his wife and mother-in-law by means of strychnine, which it is alleged he placed in beer given them by him.

The chemist's report was received by Dist. Atty. Dickson today and it removes all doubt of the presence of poison in the beer. Two bottles were submitted to the chemist, and in both he found strychnine, one bottle containing more than the other.

Until this report was received there had been a lingering doubt as to the truth of the charges made by wife and mother-in-law against the prisoner, which had caused separation between Graves and his wife, was looked upon by the authorities, and investigations of this romance are being made, but the actual presence of strychnine in the bottles throws a doubt on the charges made by the wife and mother-in-law, in view of his physical weakness and high state of nervousness, have puzzled the officers.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS. Prof. Vivian of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School has accepted the position of history instructor at the local high school, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Adalade Miller, who has taken a position with the Long Beach High School. There will be an enrollment of over 300 pupils next term. The largest class that has ever been enrolled. The School Board has decided to add a French department, and has secured the services of Miss Mourou, an instructor from the East.

Coronado rates always reasonable.

WHEELMAN RUN DOWN.

Confused by Lights He Turns His Bicycle in Front of Automobile and Collision Follows.

From C. W. Powell, the owner of the car, and J. Ferguson, the chauffeur, it was learned that Starkey was riding south on Main street and the machine was proceeding in the same direction. As the driver approached the bicycle rider he sounded his horn. Starkey glanced around and, evidently confused, turned in front of the automobile.

At the same instant almost the bicycle and automobile collided. Starkey fell upon the side of the car and sustained two deep lacerations about the left side of his forehead. He was removed to the hospital in an ambulance. Police surgeons say his injuries are not serious.

May Bank Clearings Show Increase of Five and Half Millions Over Month Last Year.

That there is no lack of money in the Los Angeles banks for legitimate investment is demonstrated by the large total reached for May, just ended. Total bank clearings for the month reached the large sum of $2,825,885. This compared with the record for May, 1906, of $4,320,065, shows an increase of $5,505,280, or expressed in percentages, a gain of 8.59 per cent.

Each estimate will be numbered as received at The Times office, and distribution of cash will be made in that order. First correct or nearest correct estimate received will secure the first cash award in each class.

In each class, $100 will be the award for first nearest correct estimate; $20 for the next nearest estimate; $10 for the third; $5 for the fourth; $1.00 each for the next fifteen, making a total of $150 in each class or $300 in all.

The total registration at the last city election was 52,354. The number of votes cast was 31,358. The total registration for this election is 52,500.

COUPLE DIE NEAR TOGETHER.

Husband and Wife in Corona Pass Away Within Few Hours of Each Other.

CORONA, May 31.—The community was shocked yesterday upon learning that Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gleason had died suddenly, the two deaths occurring within twelve hours. Mrs. Gleason died at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, the cause being abscess of the liver. At 2 p.m. of the same day her husband was taken seriously ill and two hours later he died from hemorrhage of the brain, probably caused by the shock he had undergone.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleason were married over a year ago. Mrs. Gleason's parents are now on route from Kansas, having been summoned after the death of their daughter, and do not yet know of the double funeral that awaits their arrival. The service will be conducted at the Baptist church at 3:30 o'clock p.m. Sunday. This double blow comes all the harder to the young man's parents, Drs. J. C. and Flora Gleason, whose youngest son was killed in an accident several years ago.

CORONA CURVES. J. M. McCurry, who works near Riverside, while driving to Prado this morning, was thrown from his wagon. The horse and vehicle passed over his body, breaking a bone in the left leg, spraining and bruising the right ankle, besides causing other bruises and wounds.

The W.C.T.U. served dinner in Odd Fellows' Hall yesterday noon to Civil War veterans and wives and widows of such soldiers, numbering in all sixty persons. The memorial exercises held in the open house, the afternoon included an address on "True Patriotism" by Dr. George Lawrence Skating of South Orange, N. J., whose grandfather fought under Washington and was one of the party in the battle of Gen. Washington at the time of the memorable crossing of the Delaware. Preliminary arrangements for a Fourth of July celebration are being made here.

Until the passing of Mr. and Mrs. Gleason yesterday there had not been a death in Corona for forty-eight days. Some time before that there was a lapse of fifty-four days. It is believed that the moderate speed of the automobile prevented serious injury to Starkey. He was sent to the Receiving Hospital.

From C. W. Powell, the owner of the car, and J. Ferguson, the chauffeur, it was learned that Starkey was riding south on Main street and the machine was proceeding in the same direction. As the driver approached the bicycle rider he sounded his horn. Starkey glanced around and, evidently confused, turned in front of the automobile.

MEN'S DISEASES CURED To Stay Cured

"Weakness"

I not only cure "weakness" promptly, but I employ the only treatment that can possibly cure this disorder permanently. It is a system of local treatment entirely original with me and is employed by no physician other than myself. This may seem a broad assertion, but it is just as substantial as it is broad. So-called "weakness" is but a symptom of local inflammation or congestion, and a radical cure is merely a matter of restoring normal conditions throughout the organ system, and this I accomplish thoroughly and with absolute certainty.

Specific Blood Poison

I know this lousy disease completely. The system is thoroughly cleansed and every poisonous taint removed. The last symptom vanishes to appear no more, and all is accomplished by the use of harmless blood-cleansing remedies. Do not submit to the dangerous medical dosing commonly indulged in. Such treatment merely obscures the symptoms.

Varicocele Cured Without Cutting

The time when every man afflicted with varicocele had no choice other than to allow the disease to go on undermining his power and health, or submit to a surgical operation. Now he can choose a thorough cure by painless treatment. I cure varicocele in one week, and it is seldom necessary that the patient be detained from his business even a single day. My method is original with myself, and it is the only safe and successful treatment for varicocele ever devised.

GIRL BABY'S AWFUL ECZEMA

Sight of Eye Destroyed by Disease—Tried Five Doctors But Grew Worse—In Agony Eight Months—Parents Discouraged, Until They Tried Cuticura Remedies

IN ONE WEEK ALL SORES DISAPPEARED

"Our little girl, one year and a half old, was taken with eczema and that was what the doctor said it was. We called in the family doctor and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doctor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a weeping mass of sores. Well, he said he could help her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her eyes. Of course we phoned for doctor No. 4. He came over and looked her over and said that he would not do anything more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it was an ulcer. So we called on doctor No. 5, and he said he would try doctor No. 6. Well, that proved the same, only he charged $10 more than doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I saw one of the Cuticura advertisements in the paper and thought we would try the Cuticura Treatment. We purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies, which cost me $1, and in three days our daughter, who had been sick about eight months, showed great improvement, and in one week all sores had disappeared. Of course it could not restore the eyesight, but if we had not purchased Cuticura in time I am confident that it would have saved the eyes. We think there is no remedy so good for any skin trouble or impurity of the blood as Cuticura. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott, R. F. D. No. 2, Oswego, O., write: 'We cured our little girl of this awful disease, August 17, 1906.'
